AGENDA

Thursday, April 22, 2010
8:00 – 4:00pm

This workshop will address strategies that have successfully changed behaviors in students with autism. It will include a review of the characteristics of autism that often result in behavioral issues, a review of visual strategies that are helpful, presentation and discussion of a variety of strategies, and will conclude with opportunities to apply the information presented.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This course is designed for special education teachers, assistant teachers, speech therapist, and others professionals who work with children who have autism spectrum disorders.

PROGRAM GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of training, participants will be able to:

- Recognize characteristics of autism and how structured teaching can be used to address behavior issues.
- Develop strategies designed to address behavior issues in students with autism

BACKGROUND

Since 1972, Division TEACCH has coordinated the nation's largest statewide public based educational and treatment programs for children with autism and related communication handicaps. With current practices emphasizing least restrictive settings, many more children with autism and other severe behavior, learning and communication problems are being served in public schools, thus creating a need for in-service training activities for teachers. In recent years, TEACCH has made its training activities available to teachers and other professionals from around the world.

APPLICATION PROCESS

There are limited slots available for each training session. Applications are accepted on a first-come, first- served basis. Final deadline for receipt of applications and payments is April 12, 2010. Spaces fill quickly.

TRAVEL

Asheville is accessible via I- 240. The closes airport is Asheville Regional Airport and is 15 miles from downtown Asheville. All trainings are held at the Asheville TEACCH Center. Directions to the center will be included in your acceptance materials.
